

2nd Sunday of Lent Homily

God isn't asking any of us to do what He asked Abraham to do.

So why do some people complain that God's Ten Commandments are too demanding and are judgmental?

According to these individuals God's Commandments are irrelevant in the present age. For such people, God's Commandments were intended only for a small group of people who lived thousands of years ago. They were never intended for sophisticated people like themselves. They know better. They are better educated than 90% of us. They don't want God's Ten Commandments to interfere with their lifestyle.

What comes after their disobedient lives turn to dust and their souls come before God's judgment seat?

We give thanks to Abraham for his obedience to God's command. May we trust God too and follow His Commandments...for they are the path that leads to eternal life with Him. There is no other way.
