

17th Sunday in Ordinary Time B Homily

Perhaps we should invite Jesus to mass and ask him if he would like to provide hospitality after mass.

We would be certain that there would be plenty of food. There would be enough food for everyone to take home enough food for the rest of the day.

We don't need Jesus to feed us food from the earth. We need Jesus to feed us the Eucharist; his body and blood. He provides this spiritual nourishment freely at every mass. Taste and see the goodness of the Lord. Thank you, Jesus, for feeding us with the bread of life and the chalice of salvation.
